Hi Everyone,

Here is a template for sending me status updates on your thesis progress. I would love for you all to submit this weekly, on Mondays, starting January 5th. Please make a copy of the document so you can edit/update it as needed on your own google drive.

I'm assuming you are all able to create your own master to do list of all your thesis related tasks -- I don't need to see that (for now).

I would like us to have a second semester kickoff meeting, held virtually, on Wednesday January 21st. Would 2 pm work for you all?

I'll be sending you comments on your proposals soon -- thank you for your patience. I'm mostly focusing my comments on the research methods and approach.

Thanks!
Dory

Hi everyone,

Happy new year! I hope your breaks were both restful and productive (if that's even possible!).

I want everyone to get in the habit of tracking their weekly progress -- please use this template to send me weekly updates on your thesis tasks. I updated it slightly to include a section for things you planned to do but didn't get to (you can double-list those items in section C. Please copy to your google drive, and email your update to me by Friday!

Also, please let me know if Wednesday January 21st at 2 pm does not work for you for a virtual meeting. I'll put it on the calendar and send a link later this week.

Thanks!
Dory
